WASHINGTON.

PROCEEDINGS OF CONGRESS-THE SENATE FI-NANCE COMMITTEE—FISCAL ESTIMATES FOR THE NEXT YEAR—INTEREST ON THE GOVERN-MENT LOANS-RETENTION OF THE FEEED MEN'S BUREAU OF FICERS IN SERVICE.

OT TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE. Washington, Thursday, Dec. 12, 1867. In the Senate to-day, Mr. Sherman's bill for keeptog in the Treasury all money accraing from the sale of captured and abandoned property, was debated and again laid over. Mr. Drake made a personal explanation in relation to a charge made by the Washington correspondent of The Cincinnati Commercial, that be, while a member of the Missouri Legislature in 1800, had voted to sell free negroes into Slavery; it was true that he had voted to amend a bill then before the Legislature, by adding a section that all free negroes should be sold into Slavery, but he voted against the bill on its final passage. Reverdy Johnson then took the floor and made a lengthy speech in defense of the President, which was attentively lis-

The House was in session for four hours to-day, but did nothing of importance. A resolution was passed easly in the day to adjourn over till Monday, but was afterward reconsidered on on urgent appeals of several members who have their minds burdened with prepared speeches on the state of the Union, which they are anxions to deliver and have printed. It was agreed to do no business to-morrow, but devote the day to speech-making. Gen. Van Wick made a raid on the Gettysburg Soldiers' Asylum lottery, which ne denounced a fraud and a swindle, and had a resolution passed calling on the Commissioner of the Internal Revenue to know why he had exempted them from the legal tax. The President did not send any nominations to the Senate to-day, but furnished that body with a statement of the grounds of the suspension of Mr. Stanton as Secretary of War. The communication was made to the Senate to-day, in order to come within the 20 days named in the Tenure-of-Office act, counting from the first day of the November session. It is not, however, understood to be the opinion of the Executive that these 20 days begin with the November term; but as some Senators entertain a different opinion, it was deemed advisable to communicate the Stanton suspension at this date. In this communication the President sets forth the various rea-sons that governed him in ordering the suspension of the late Secretary of War. Among these are the conduct of Mr. Stanton in withholding for several days from the Executive the dispatch of Gen. Baird. giving an account of threatened riot in New-Orleans, which, had it been communicated to the President, would, as Mr. Johnson holds, have caused steps to have been taken to prevent the riot. Another point made against Mr. Stanton is that he himself declared the Tenure of Office bill unconstitotional, and suggested a part of the message vetoing that bill. The conduct of Mr. Stanton, in attempting to hold his position in the Cabinet against the wish of the Executive, is also commented on. The communication sets forth various acts of omission and commission on the part of Mr. Stanton, all going to show, in the opinion of the President, cause for the suspension or removal of the late Secretary. This action of the President in sending the commu-Mication to the Senate is taken out of abundant cantion; but is nevertheless understood that Mr. Johnson does not recognize the Tenure of Office act as Constitutional.

The Senate Finance Committee, after disposing of the Cotton bill to-day, took up the consideration of the Currency Contraction bill, but after a brief interchange of opinion decided to postpone further action until their next meeting. The nomination of the Hon. Edmond Cooper as Assistant Secretary of the Treasury was also considered, and the Chairman was instructed to report against his confirmation. Gen. Jeffries received the indorsement of the Committee as Register of the Treasury.

The Committee on Appropriations of the House of Representatives has received from Secretary McCul-

Interest on three year 7-30 Treasury Notes ... 22,100,000 ox It is said that the Joint Retrenchment Committee, now in session at the Treasury Department, will make a report favoring a reduction of the force em-ployed therein to at least two-thirds of the present number. By this reduction between 500 and 600 persons will be dismissed from the Department. The Secretary has decided to dismiss a number of female clerks employed in the various bureaus, and about 50 will be dismissed before the 1st of January next. The Committee on Elections this morning heard a continuance of the argument in the case of John Young Brown, member of Congress from Kentucky, whose seat is contested by Mr. Smith on the charge take up the case of Trimble whose scat is contested by Col. Simms, upon the charges of disloyalty and securing his election by illegal voting. The Committee expects to be ready to report to the House on all the Kentucky eases before the adjournment of Congress for the Holidays.

The report of the operations of the Bankrupt law will not be ready before February. It will be made up of reports from registers in bankruptey throughout the country, and only about one-third of them have been heard from. Reports received thus far indicate that the law will have to receive some amendment in order to make it fully meet the wants of the classes for whose benefit it was made.

It is likely that nominations to two or three of the foreign missions may be made to the Senate tomorrow. The missions to Ecuador and Venezuela will probably be disposed of in the Cabinet session

EMr. Eliot of Massachusetts has drawn tup"a joint resolution to retain all officers of the Freedmen's Bureau in the Volunteer service until July next, when the Bureau expires by law unless kept in operation by additional legislation. This is rendered necessary by Gen. Grant's order which musters Volunteer officers out of the service on the 1st of January.

Gen. Ramsey was examined by the Ordnance Committee to-day in relation to certain projectiles made for the Government during his administration of the Ordnance Bureau. He Ewas Equestioned on his removal from that position in 1864, and asked if he knew that any outside finfluence was used to secure his suspension. The General stated that he was not ready to answer the latter questions, and asked that time be allowed him for preparation. It is stated that Gen. Dyer in his testimony before the Committee claimed to have originated the practice of using soft metal sabots for rifle practice in 1859. The evidence taken by the Committee went to show that patents were granted both in England and America for that invention many years prior to 1859.

Prof. Hillguard was examined to-day by the Ways and Means Commit s on the merits of the Tice meter. Commissioner Rollins appeared before the same Committee and gave his views on revenue matters, and the means best calculated to insure the full collection of the whisky tax. The Committee will endeavor to come to a conclusion in regard to the taxes on distilled spirits next week.

It is reported that 100 clerks will be dismissed from the Pension Office on the 31st inst., but no notice has been received by any yet. There are now employed in the office about 250 clerks, that number being more than allowed by law, and it is very probable that the force will be reduced at an early day.

Among the communications sent to the House today, was one from the War Department inclosing the application of H. B. Sainte Marie for compensation for information furnished by him, which led to the capture of John H. Surratt. Judge Advocate General Holt thinks he ought to be paid.

Paymaster-General Byrce, submits an estimate for the First Military District, Gen. Schofield, viz.; $50,000 to complete the payment of expenses of registration and election, and for current expenses. This sum, added to the amount of deficiencies above given, makes $1,302,254, as the actual deficiency for which appropriation should be made. The Paymaster-General also shows the necessity of an appropriation of $50,000 for reconstruction purposes in the Third Military District (Gen. Pope's), and a total appropriation of $1,252,254. The Commissary General of Subsistence alludes to the two propositions pending before Congress for increasing and fixing the pay of officers of that Department, which, he says, is sufficient in number and rank of its officers to enable it to meet the requirements of the army.

CESSURE OF THE PRISIDENT.

The Senate then took up Mr. Drake's resolution.

Mr. JOHN SON (Bem., Md.) proceeded to discuss it at length. Replying to the assertion that no soversign rights existed in any State of the Union, but that the supreme power resided in the United States Government alone, he said a reference to the Convention which had framed the Constitution would show the fallacy of that Jordan the Constitution would show the fallacy of that Jordan the Constitution would show the fallacy of that Jordan the Constitution would show the fallacy of that Jordan the formation of its Constitution and its adoption. The Supreme Court of the United States had always held that certain rights did imbus in the States. Chief-Justice Marshal, in his opinion of the matter of the United States Bank, holding in precise terms and denouncing the contrary doctrine as fatal to the objects of the framers of of the Constitution, was referred to. The Senator from Missouri (Mr. Drake) surely agreed that there were such rights, since he had been a member of the State Convention of Missouri, which framed a Constitution claiming rights which for their existence required soverelegaty in the most absolute souse. Enderthming to step between ministers of the Gospel and the exercise of their holy functions, demanding an oath from them sa pre-liminary condition, to which, in the spirit of the martyra, they had refused to submit.

Mr. DRAKE interrupted Mr. Johnson to say that in that Convention he had opposed the provision referred to with all his might. It was adopted in spire of his efforts.

Mr. JOHNSON said that fact did not affect the purpose for which he had referred to the matter, namely: That that State exercised sovereign and hidependent powers. To the charge that the President done to call for his impectancent; He

Mr. DRAKE—I was not a supporter of Andrew Jackson, although, had I known as buch in those days as I do low, perhaps I might have been.

Mr. JOHNSON—I was going to say that. (Langhter.)

Mr. DRAKE—Rut it would have been because he was in invincible champion of the Union, and the deadly for if the very doctrines which the Senator is now advocating mon this floor. (Langhter.)

of the very doctrines which the Sonator is now advocating upon this floor. [Langhter.]

Mr. JOHNSON—I learn that for the first time. The reading of the Senator from Missouri has been more effective than mine has been, if that is so.

Mr. BRAKE—Does the Senator remember his proclamation in regard to multiflication?

Mr. JOHNSON—Parfeedly.

Mr. JOHNSON—Protocted that he also remembered Jackson's veto of the United States Pank oill, and his protest against the authority of the United States senate to can sure him for an not done by him, and the Clark read to of disloyalty. To morrow, the Committee propose to ality of President Inchme's view; while no such trib in the land would support the acts of Congress in question as constitutional, the lately rebellious States had been forced to submit to the absolute will of Congress. Mr. Johnson severely denounced the language that had been used toward the President and his Message. He characterized the Message as one of the best ever sent to Congress by any President. Aliuding again to the rebuke of Congress by President Jackson, he said Senators should take warning by the fate of that attempt to censure him. He had read the resolution of censure to censure him. He had read the resolution of censure to fered by Mr. Clay on the 28th of March, 1834, and passed by a vote of 36 to 20, after consideration from the December previous. Also another resolution introduced by Mr. Benton June 16, 1837, expunging the former from the lournal after, Mr. Johnson said, the people had in a marked manner condemned the course of the Senate. The Senator from Missouri (Mr. Drake) should beware lest his resolution should, if now passed, at some future time meet a similar fate. Recent elections showed the current of popular feeling, and he warned them that such legislation would be overwhelmingly rebuked. Let them legislate to lighten the burdens of the people, and above all, see to it, that the plighted faith of the natiom be redecimed and its fame unspotted.

Mr. SUMNER (Rep., Mass.) suggested that it would be better to postpone the resolution until Schators had more opportunity to make up their minds about its necessity.

THE GETTYSBURG ASYLUM LOTTERY.

Mr. VAN WYCK (Rep., N. Y.) off-red a resolution, directing the Commissioner of Internal Revenue to report why the supervisors of the scheme known as the Gettysburg Asylum for invalid soldiers, had been exempted from payment of special tax on lotteries. He denounced the scheme as one of the most infamous frauds and swindles ever sought to be perpetrated under the guise of charity. The first prize advertised was a farm, said to be worth $6,000. That farm happened to be in his own Congressional District, and was not worth $6,000. The other prizes consisted of diamonds. He understood them to belong to a New-York tobacconist, who some years ago had been cheated into advancing $200,020 on them, and they were afterward found to be worthless stones, and yet the Commissioners of Internal Revenue had relieved this swindling concern from the payment of duty, and the Fostmater-General had written a letter requesting all postmasters to aid it. solution was adopted, and the House, at 4 o'clock,

THE FIFTH-AVE. THEATER MURDER.

EXAMINATION BEFORE JUSTICE DODGE AT THE JEFFERSON MARKET POLICE COURT-POST MORTEM EXAMINATION-KELLY THOUGHT TO BE OUT OF IMMEDIATE DANGER. Some additional facts have been brought to

ght respecting the Negro Minstrel tragedy, an account which was printed in THE TRIBUNE yesterday morning. It appears that the rivalry between the principals in the affray originated in their business, Kelly and Leon being the proprietors of the negro minstrel establishment at No. 720 Broadway, and Samuel M. Sharpley the owner of the Theatre Comique. Sharpley had heard that Leon said in Boston last Summer that he (Sharpley) was bankrupt, and the cumity between them had been intensified by an alleged unfairness on the part of Leon in engaging erfain dancers. The minstrel party met accidentally at he matinee at the Fifth ave. Theater on Wednesday afternoon, and Sharpley determined, after the per slander upon him. Most of the audience had left the Theater when the parties came out, and Sharpley, who had been joined by Allison, the treasurer of is establishment, spoke to Leon and demanded a retracion of his allegation about Sharpley's credit, Leon tion of his allegation about Sharpley's credit. Leon denied that he had ever told any derogatory story concerning Sharpley, and thereupon Sharpley gave him the lie, applied epithets of a most off-nsive mature and strack him with his flat. Leon is a small man, and Sharpley is muscular. Keily interfered to defend his weaker companion. He was immediately struck by Sharpley, knocked down, and according to one account knoked in the face while prostrate on the sidewalk. Thomas Sharpley approached at this moment, and Kelly says that the two brothers and Allison were all striking and kicking turn at the same time. Leon does not appear to have a brothers and Anison were not appear to have a set any part in the affray after the first encounter. By at length regained his feet, and drawing a revolver, at length regained his feet, and drawing a revolver, at upon Thomas Sharpley, who felt dead on the first scharge. Eally afterward discharged two other shots at arpley. Somethous design his brother fall, also dress a set of and first upon Kelly, the hall entering the held over the left ear, and beging in the left tempe. Other was the left tempe. dove the left er, and leading the Kelly again, and his breeze processed his firing upon Kelly again, and his count shot task effect in his own left hand. Sharpfuy's lady was carried into the vestibable of the Tifin ave larger, and afterward harne to Bellovine Hesgital and imposited in the Margine. Kelly's wound was dressed in an energy of the processed with the Margine.

a drug store, and he, together with Sam. Sharpley and Leon, was lodged in the Twenty-inithest. Police Station. Thomas Sharpley was at years old, and leaves a widow and two children. He lived in Twenty-seventh-st., near 19th-ave, and it is said that he was the owner of a fair bank in Twenty-fifthest. The bail still remains in Kelly's bead, but Ir. Sayre considers him out of immediate danger. The removal of the ball will be a very delicate surgical operation. Both Kelly and Leon occupy the Capiana's room at the Polica Station in Twenty minthest. They do not voluntarily converse upon the subject of the affray. Kelly was in a degree deranged yesteriag. Sharpley occupies the Sergeaut's coom in the same Police Station. The wound in his left hand is very patoful. He says that he was more than fifty feet away when Kelly sho his brother, and he emphatically denies that Mr. Alliem took any part in the affray. Many friends visited the prisoners at the Police Station yesterday. Kelly and Leon were taken before Jostice Dochor, at the Jefferson Market Police Courf, yesterday morning, the former for the number of Sharplay, and the latter as an accessory to the crime; and testimony was there taken suitararitally as follows:

Officer Daniel Freeze of the Twenty-fifth Precinct, testified that about 4 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, is was at the course of firendaway and Twenty-fourthest, when

Officer Duniel Freese of the Twenty-fifth Precinct, testified that about 4 o'clock on Wednesday afterwoon, he was at the corner of fivoadway and Twenty-fourthest, when he saw Leon running through Twenty fourthest, when Broadway, porsaed by Samuel Sharpley; that Sharpley said "Arrest that man," whereupon he caught hold of him, and took him and Sharpley up to the Fifth-avenue Tocater, where there was a great crowd, he heard a posted shot, and then saw Thomas J. Sharpley fall on the sidewalk, with his head and shoulder in the guiter; that when he was so prostrated, he saw Edwin Keily advance to ward him, and deiberately discharge a pistol at him, firing two shots which took effect in his body; Samuel M. Sharpley then drew a revolver and discharged it at Keily, the ball taking effect in his head; the deceased was pleifed up and carried into the vesticate of the Fifth-ave. Theater, where he died in a few moments; after which he conveyed the party, in company with Officer Kennedy, sonveyed the party, in company with Officer Kennedy, HACKENSACK.—The cliffs of the Palisades was the scene, yesterday morning, of another disgraceful prize fight. The two men, "Tim" Boyle and "Bill" Mangles, and their "friends" were taken by a tag boat to the appointed place, arriving a little before daybreak. After the party had climbed up the cliff, a ring was pitched, and the men leaped in. The wind whistled, and the snow fell in large flakes; the puglists commenced. Boyle hit Mangles in the ribs, and the blow was returned with severity on his mouth, drawing bloed freely; Mangles then slipped and fell. Severe fighting followed, but the blinding and drifting snow at this stage of the proceedings drove many of the spectators back to the boat. On account of storm, both men tried to force the fighting, and the consequence was that both men were shockingly punished, and both fell in their corners a discusting specatacle, the snow all around being dyed with blood. On agreement, the fight was abandoned until another day, and the puglists were wrapped in blankets and taker on board the boat. The fight lasted 42 minutes.
